MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: ACDA Request for Intelligence Support in Briefing of Joint Committee on Atomic Energy

1. On 16 July 1962 Mr. George Bunn, Office of the General Counsel, United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA), informed the undersigned that Dr. Franklin Long, head of the Science and Technology Office, was scheduled to brief the JCAE on the technical aspects [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Mr. Bunn stated that he and Mr. Adrian Fisher, Deputy Director of ACDA, anticipated that the JCAE may ask to what extent unilateral intelligence capabilities could support a nuclear test ban [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] To field such questions, Mr. Bunn stated that ACDA wished to be accompanied by a knowledgeable CIA representative or to have Dr. Long given an oral or written briefing to permit him to answer such questions.

2. The undersigned informed Mr. Bunn that his request would be passed to the appropriate Agency officials and following the conversation I called [REDACTED] Office of the Legislative Counsel. [REDACTED] stated that in his opinion ACDA should be advised that congressional briefings on intelligence capabilities were the prerogative of the DCI and that if any questions regarding these matters were to arise, ACDA should inform the Joint Committee that the matter should be taken up with the DCI, possibly at the forthcoming annual briefing on the Soviet atomic energy program. However, [REDACTED] stated that he would advise Mr. Larry Houston of the ACDA request and get his reaction.

3. The undersigned then contacted the Office of the DD/I to inform Mr. Cline of the ACDA request and [REDACTED] recommendation and to request guidance in responding to ACDA.

4. Mr. Bunn stated that the subject of the use of unilateral intelligence for guidance of U. S. officials in the selection of sites for on-site inspections was a current one and that ACDA would desire some statement on the quality and quantity of intelligence which would be available to guide such U. S. decisions in the context of the 18 April 1961 U. S. draft Treaty on General and Complete Disarmament. The undersigned stated that such a study could be made available, and that it could be handled most expeditiously if ACDA formerly requested either an Agency or Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee study. Mr. Bunn stated that a request for such a study would probably be received from ACDA in the near future.
